Description

The conical bowl with slightly concave walls and an obliquely cut edge of the rims. From the outside, there are traces of vertical smoothing on the walls, inside the surface is smoothed, covered with orange engobe and painted with brown paint in the form of a pair of double lines, which spirally hang from the edge of the rims to the center of the bottom, marked by a thick dot. The ribbons are separated by a strip that descends from the rims to the center, delineating the marginal border of the bottom. Under the rims, four inlaid semi-ovals and two double appendages to each line are placed inside.
